Prophetstown City Council/ PLT School Board

End of School Year 22-23

School Resource Officer Jim Miller

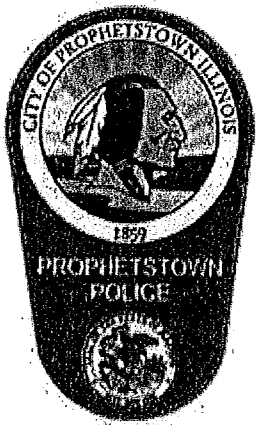

- Our known vaping issues have slowed down considerably. The students have either figured out new ways to conceal their vapes, and/or have been avoiding bringing them to school due to the fact that it is now easier to find them, even if they are hidden well. Also coupled with the fact that I have been writing city ordinance violations for up to $500 for paraphernalia.
- The high school had a few issues with kids leaving campus when not allowed to. I would give them one verbal warning, but then I started to write them a $100 city ordinance ticket for "Truancy". Most, if not all students, stopped leaving campus. I believe I wrote one student twice for this but that has been it.
- The towards the end of the year some tensions were getting high with the incentive trip. I stayed on a heightened alert anytime a parent came in. There was a lot of nasty stuff being thrown around in the social media world.
- Graduation practices and the ceremony itself went off without a hitch. Also, a heightened time for myself.

- Did not have any major student issues which is expected at the end of the year. No fights, no major social media issues. No screaming and shouting between students.
- The school district had their annual threat assessment team meeting/training. I believe all the participants including myself, took something away from that meeting and will use it in practice next year if it calls for it.
- All in all, I believe the school year went well. I will look forward to coming back in August to kick off the 23-24 school year.
